At times the Issuer and/or the liquidity provider may be the only person quoting prices on the Hong Kong Exchanges and Clearing Limited ("HKEx") and there may be limited secondary market available for the structured products. In relation to structured products, a base listing document, an Addendum and a Supplemental Listing Document has been prepared by the Issuer for the purpose of obtaining a listing for the structured products on the HKEx and sets out certain matters of record with respect to the Issuer and the structured products. The Issuer has no responsibility to update the information in the listing documents as at any date following the listing date of the structured products and no offer or solicitation is made on the basis of the listing documents. Copies of the listing documents may be obtained from our website at www.warrants.com.hk and our office at Level 18, One International Finance Centre, 1 Harbour View Street, Central, Hong Kong. Additional information regarding the Macquarie Group may be available on our Website www.warrants.com.hk. This information may have been sent to you directly from MCSL. You should consult, to the extent necessary, your own independent and competent and legal and financial and other professional advisers, to ensure that any decision you make is suitable for you with regards to your circumstances and financial position.
